

Grace, Glory and Gaffe: India's Northeastern Region @75

Author: Dr. Uttara Sahasrabuddhe, Mrs. Gayatri Lele

₹775 ISBN: 9788196775162

India's Northeastern Region (NER) is important for both security and political reasons. It is a complex territory in terms of the heterogeneity of its population and also due to the various disputes over inter-state boundaries and sharing of resources. The region has a unique geographical location – a significantly large part of the region shares its boundaries with neighbouring countries.

Contents | Acknowledgements | Preface |

Part 1: Understanding the Northeastern Region

Part 2: Challenges of Governance

Part 3: Resolving Conflicts, Making Peace

Part 4: NER in the Context of Development and Foreign Policy

About the Editors and Contributors

About the Author

Dr. Uttara Sahasrabuddhe is Distinguished Fellow at the Forum for Integrated National Security, Mumbai. Formerly, she was Professor & Head, Department of Civics & Politics, University of Mumbai

Gayatri Lele is a visiting faculty at Ramnarain Ruia College (Autonomous)

Experienced teacher with a demonstrated history of working in the field of higher education. Skilled in Political Science, Lecturing, Writing, Translation and Art. Strong education professional with PhD in Political Science from University of Mumbai.